REPORT ON CIVIL SERVICE ORIENTATION PROGRAMME

The Career Guidance and Placement Cell of Sree Narayana College, Alathur, in association with the Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) and Fortune IAS Academy, organized a Civil Service Orientation Programme for I and II Year UG students on 28 September 2026 at 1.30 p.m. at Gurukripa Hall. The programme was organized with the objective of creating awareness among students about the Civil Services Examination and encouraging them to explore civil service as a career option while pursuing their undergraduate studies. The programme also aimed to provide students with an opportunity to understand the pattern of the examination and the possibilities of systematic preparation alongside their regular academic programme.

The programme commenced with a welcome address by Sucharitha R S, Career Guidance and Placement Cell Coordinator, who welcomed the gathering and highlighted the relevance of career guidance and early preparation for competitive examinations. The IQAC Coordinator, Dr. S. Dhiva, felicitated the gathering and emphasized the importance of providing students with opportunities to explore diverse career pathways and competitive examinations. The presence and participation of the students made the programme interactive and meaningful.

Saran R, the resource person, led the main orientation session. He gave a detailed description of the pattern of the Civil Services Examination and explained the different stages involved in the examination process. He provided students with a clear understanding of the nature and structure of the examination and highlighted the importance of systematic preparation, a strong foundation and consistent effort. The session helped the students to gain a better awareness of the requirements of the Civil Services Examination and encouraged them to consider civil service preparation along with their undergraduate studies. The interaction with the resource person also provided students with useful guidance regarding the approach to competitive examinations and the importance of beginning preparation at an early stage.

At the end of the orientation programme, a scholarship examination was conducted for the participating students. The examination was organized with the objective of providing scholarship opportunities to students interested in joining civil service coaching along with their undergraduate programme. The scholarship test provided an opportunity for students to demonstrate their aptitude and enabled eligible students to avail themselves of financial support for structured civil service coaching.

The programme was informative and beneficial to the students as it created awareness about the Civil Services Examination, its pattern and the opportunities available for systematic preparation during the undergraduate period. It also served as a platform for students to explore civil service as a career pathway and understand the importance of early planning and preparation. The scholarship examination conducted as part of the programme further strengthened the initiative by providing an opportunity for students to pursue civil service coaching along with their UG studies.

The programme concluded with the vote of thanks proposed by Rosini K, Organizing Committee Member, who expressed gratitude to the Principal, IQAC Coordinator, resource person, Career Guidance and Placement Cell, Fortune IAS Academy, organizing committee members and all the students for their valuable presence and support in making the programme a success. The Civil Service Orientation Programme was thus successfully conducted as a meaningful career guidance initiative for the students of Sree Narayana College, Alathur.
